

Dear Ma,

My today's letter to Gene Wilson, CIA

8/6/76

What I did not address I do not want you to miss.

Before the time of the drafting of his letter stamp dated 8/5/76 they had searched my request for the King records, F-76-382.

From his own listing there are nine earlier requests.

Only one has been complied with, 76-105.

There has been partial compliance with some others.

If they can have searched this material out, how can there be justification for not having found material they have so much older in their list of requests?

Going back to ~~1971~~ 1971?

How much "good faith" does it require before they can exercise "due diligence?"

Best,
